

ENFORCEMENT AND INVESTOR PROTECTION DEPARTMENT

SEC ADVISORY

It has come to the attention of the SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION (SEC) that an entity named QUADBIT VERSE, has been enticing the public to invest their money in its scheme with the promise of high monetary rewards or profits.

Based on our investigation, the entity operates online through <https://quadbitverse.io/>. Further, QUADBIT VERSE also leverages social media platforms and other online tools to solicit investments from the public as an Online Subscription Platform allegedly engaged in FOREX TRADING, CRYPTO CURRENCY, AFFILIATE MARKETING, QV FOREX TRADING ACADEMY and COAL MINING, which is a recruitment-driven model commonly linked to illegal or unauthorized investment activities that are inherently unsustainable and detrimental to the public.

Per SEC records, QUADBIT VERSE is not registered as a Corporation or Partnership, and has no Secondary License or authority to solicit investments from the public.

Further, the Commission emphasizes that the mere registration of a corporation does not grant it the authority to solicit investments from the public. Under Republic Act No. 8799, otherwise known as the Securities Regulation Code (SRC), entities intending to engage in the business of buying or selling securities, including investment contracts, must first secure a Secondary License from the SEC.

The SEC reiterates its advice to the public to exercise extreme caution when dealing with entities that offer or promise earnings that appear too good to be true and NOT TO INVEST or STOP INVESTING in such schemes.

Any entity found soliciting investments without such license, along with all individuals involved in its promotion, shall be subject to corresponding administrative, civil, and criminal penalties under the law.

To verify the legitimacy of the companies and the investment products they offer, the public is advised to visit the checkwithsec.sec.gov.ph or download the SEC Check APP on mobile devices.

For the information and guidance of the public.
