PUBLIC ADVISORY

ON THE REPORTED UNAUTHORIZED USE OF THE NAME, REGISTRATION DETAILS AND REGULATORY CREDENTIALS OF SUPREME MONEY LENDING CORP. IN CONNECTION WITH AN ONLINE LENDING PLATFORM AND WEBSITES

The Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC" or "Commission") hereby advises the public to exercise caution with respect to the online lending platform ("OLP") identified as "Supreme Money-Cash Loans App," accessible through the Google Play Store via the link: https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=com.supreme.money.loan&pcampaignid=web_share and the websites accessible through the following links: https://quickloantopgg.com/pcPage and www.suprememk.com were reported to the Commission for allegedly using the name, branding, and/or representations associated with SUPREME MONEY LENDING CORP. ("Supreme Money" or the "Company").

The Commission notes that Supreme Money Lending Corp has represented to the Commission that the above-mentioned OLP and websites are allegedly not owned, operated, authorized, or affiliated with the Company in any manner. The Company likewise represented that it has no participation in, or connection with, the operations of the said digital platforms.

The public is reminded that only financing companies and lending companies duly registered with the Commission and with properly disclosed or recorded online lending platforms are authorized to engage in online lending or financing activities through digital channels.

Accordingly, the public is strongly advised to exercise due diligence and caution before dealing with online lending platforms, websites, mobile applications, social media pages, or persons claiming to represent financing or lending companies. Members of the public are likewise advised not to readily disclose personal, financial, or sensitive information, nor remit money or fees, without independently verifying the legitimacy and authority of the platform or entity involved.

The unauthorized use of the name, logo, Certificate of Authority details, business identity, or other regulatory credentials of duly registered financing or lending companies may potentially constitute fraudulent, deceptive, misleading, or unlawful activity that may expose financial consumers to financial loss, identity theft, unauthorized processing of personal data, harassment, or other forms of consumer harm.

Consumers who may have been contacted by or transacted with the above-mentioned platform or website are encouraged to immediately report the matter to the Commission and to the appropriate law enforcement or cybercrime authorities, and to preserve screenshots, URLs, transaction records, communications, and other relevant evidence.

For verification of duly registered financing and lending companies and their authorized online lending platforms, the public may visit the SEC's official website and other official SEC channels.

The Commission reiterates its commitment to protecting financial consumers and to continuously monitoring and addressing unauthorized, deceptive, or potentially fraudulent lending activities conducted through digital platforms and online channels.
