The foregoing screenshots depict the unauthorized website reported to the Commission. The website falsely represents itself as being associated with PIPO FINANCING (PH), INC. by displaying the Company's corporate information, thereby creating the false impression that it is a legitimate online platform of the Company.

The Commission strongly advises the public to exercise utmost caution when dealing with online lending websites, mobile applications, social media pages, and other digital platforms. Fraudulent operators often impersonate duly licensed financing or lending companies by unlawfully using legitimate corporate names, SEC registration numbers, Certificates of Authority, company addresses, logos, and other corporate information to deceive consumers into submitting personal information, providing sensitive financial data, or making payments.

Accordingly, the public is advised to observe the following precautions:

- Verify whether the financing or lending company is duly registered and licensed with the SEC before availing of any financial product or service;
- Confirm that the online lending platform, website, mobile application, or other borrower-facing channel is officially associated with the licensed financing or lending company;
- Refrain from providing personal information, government-issued identification cards, bank account details, one-time passwords (OTPs), passwords, or other confidential information to suspicious or unverified websites;

- Avoid making any payment, processing fee, deposit, or advance remittance unless the legitimacy of the entity has first been verified; and
- Report any suspicious online lending activities, websites, mobile applications, or social media accounts to the Commission and the appropriate law enforcement authorities immediately.

Consumers who may have been contacted by, interacted with, or transacted through the subject website are likewise encouraged to promptly report the matter to the SEC and, where appropriate, to the Philippine National Police Anti-Cybercrime Group (PNP-ACG), the National Bureau of Investigation Cybercrime Division (NBI-CCD), or other competent law enforcement agencies.

To verify whether a financing or lending company is duly registered and licensed by the Commission, as well as to access information on authorized online lending platforms, the public is encouraged to visit the SEC Official Website and use the SEC Check App.

The Commission remains steadfast in protecting financial consumers and preserving the integrity of the financing and lending industry. The SEC will continue to take the appropriate regulatory and enforcement actions against persons or entities engaged in unauthorized, fraudulent, deceptive, or misleading online lending activities, including those involving the unlawful use of the identity of duly licensed financing and lending companies.
